

Year Five 11+ Revision & Practice Holiday Courses 2022

Staying on track

Essential for keeping up the momentum over the holidays, Flying Start's Revision and Practice course will make sure your child avoids the dreaded holiday slide! Not only that, experience has shown that pupils who attend our Revision and Practice courses perform better in the real exams than those who don't - so book now to help your child succeed!

Course overview

Running for 2.5 hours per day (including breaks) over five consecutive mornings or afternoons, our Revision and Practice course covers the four main areas of English, verbal reasoning, mathematics and non-verbal reasoning as found on the 11+ tests. Through a series of timed exercises, students will revise and practise the techniques for tackling a range of question types. In so doing, they will refine their skills, boost their confidence and increase their speed – so essential for 11+ success.

Courses take place in our Chesham tuition centre or online in one of our virtual classrooms. All students will be provided with online assignments and course materials via the Flying Start members' area. Sessions are taught by experienced Flying Start tutors, using plans and resources devised by Sian Goodspeed, founder of Flying Start, 11+ expert and author of many Schofield and Sims 11+ books.

Who is Revision & Practice for?

Our Revision and Practice course is suitable for Year 5 students who are already familiar with the main question types found on the 11+ tests.

We recommend all our existing term time Year 5 11+ students attend this course in order to maintain and hone their skills over the summer. This will ensure that they are working at their peak in time for the tests in early September.

This course is not suitable for students with little prior 11+ practice experience, nor is it suitable for children who are struggling across the board in one or more subject areas. If your child needs support with any of the four subject areas or they are new to 11+ preparation, please contact us for advice before booking a Revision and Practice course.

If your child only needs support with one or more question types or topics within a subject area, this course may be suitable if they also attend the relevant 11+ Flash Workshop.

If you are not sure if this course is suitable for your child, please email or call us and a member of our friendly team will be happy to help.

Resources

For students attending the venue, resources needed during each lesson are provided on the day. For online students, all the resources for the course will be available as downloadable PDFs in the classroom area. You will need to print these off in advance of each session. If you are unable to print, we offer a print and post service for an additional fee of £40. Please email us to arrange this once you have booked the course.

Boost your child's 11+ Superpowers!

Throughout the Revision and Practice course, your child will be given opportunities to flex their 11+ muscles as they develop a series of skills to make up their very own 11+ Superpowers toolkit!

Including techniques from neuro-linguistic programming (NLP), this toolkit will enable them to approach their preparation and the exams with a 'can do' attitude, help them to focus for longer, avoid distractions and combat exam nerves - empowering them to do the very best they can.

Students attending Flying Start's 11+ term time courses will have already been building their 11+ Superpowers toolkit in their lessons. The 11+ Revision and Practice course provides them with an ideal opportunity to further embed these game-changing techniques, giving them a superhero's advantage on the big day.

New to 11+ Superpowers?

If your child has not been attending a term-time 11+ course with Flying Start, we highly recommend they take our 11+ Superpowers course in advance of their Revision and Practice course. This will provide them with more in-depth 11+ Superpowers training that will ensure they fully benefit from the techniques revised on the Revision and Practice course.
